assembly hall for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for their seventh annual reunion. The hall was well filled with the warriors of the stormy days of early Utah and in their faces was written the story of the struggles of the pioneers who maintained superiority over the red men with powder and ball from 1850 until 1867, when the Indians were finally subdued and removed to the reservations.

It was decided at the meeting last night that the reunion would be held in Armory hall, in the Commercial Club building, on the evening of Feb. 26, and that the program would comprise, among other features, dancing, old-time war songs and refreshments. The entertainment, as outlined, will be characteristic of the Indian war veterans as they appeared in the early days. Eureka Party Dumped Into Creek in Fifteen Feet of Snow.

Eureka, Jan. 18.-Frank Lumley, Eueka's popular baseball captain and hust ing news agent; Leo Leyin and W. L

Patton, two solicitors sent out from Sal Lake by The Herald, got into a peck of trouble Thursday afternoon. Mr. Lum , who has done so much to increase circulation of The Herald, and whose delivery service now takes in the entire Tintic district, started out in a sleigh from Eureka, accompanied by Mr. Levin at 2 p. m. o'clock Thursday, their desti-nation being Silver City. A terrific snow-storm was sweeping up Eureka gulch and on the level in Tintic valley the wind was blowing fifty miles an hour. Friends advised them not to take the trip. Nothing daunted, however, they started out. A little thing like a snowstorm cut no ice with them. It was their intention to call at Robinson on their way back and fetch Patton along, who was loaded down with new subscribers. But "the best laid plans o' mice and men gang aft aglee." The journey to Silver City and back as far as Robinson was eminently successful. At Robinson Patton was loaded in and the three started merrily on the last trek. All went well until they came under the trestle of the San Pedro road. Here an immense pile of the "beautiful" which had drifted on the northeast side of the trestle slid playfully into the roadway. The horses had just got past the slide but the unfortunate newspaper men Carl B. Schimmick was arrested yesterday afternoon at Bingham by Deputy Sheriff Pace of Green River. Way. The line is way, a slide, but the unfortunate newspaper men were unceremoniously dumped into the bed of the creek, which was fully fifteen feet deep with snow. The horses being relieved of 448 pounds of humanity, started gaily back to Eureka, the sleigh righting itself. The sight of the empty sleigh caused Lumley's friends great uneasiness and a search party was immediately or The first ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS which a man saves is of greater value than the thousands he may make later on.

Murty was released from a long sentence in the city jail Thursday noon. At 4 o'clock he was back at the jail, very drunk, and vociferously demanded admission to his cell, threatening to tear the his old accustomed place.

The snow and the cold that Murty encountered during his four hours' respite evidently convinced him that the warm jail was the place for him. He wandered about the saloons long enough to acquire the city in his own behalf and accepted the sentence, but with inward glee.

Judge Diehl tried to give the old jail-bird a little advice along the line of temperance, and asked him why he didn't go home and behave himself when he got out o' jail. Murty took the lecture as an insult and drawing himself up to his full height of nearly 5 feet, he said:

"Why, judge, my home is in jail. I'm living there steady."
